

Ring Hill Forest – Raven’s Watch Trail, Woodinville, May 23, 2020

This lollipop 1.5-mile trail was perfect for the GRIT trail chair – mostly natural surface trail with some small rocks. We used both of us to navigate this trail to go up and down the small hills and to work with pitch of trail in areas. There are further trails in the park that we did not take (Tuck Creek Trail and Bear Point Trail).

Very limited parking (roughly 4-5 spaces) and no bathroom access

Social distancing was good due to the lack of people on trail but not easy to keep 6-foot distance due to single path trail.
